

The Onlooker

One of Those Morning-After Jobs

J. Walter Doyle is not ordinarily a pessimist, but on the day after the Fourth of July, which was July 5, if memory serves correctly, he was carrying around a countenance so full of gloom that it bulged over the edges of his collar.

It seems that Mr. Doyle had still several hundred dollars to collect for the Fourth of July fund. Collecting July 4 money on July 5 is about as pleasant a job as trying to sell a man a Watteau shepherdess painting for his dining-room the day after his house burned down.

An Artistic Service for Hawaii

A. R. Gurrey Jr. has recently returned from a riding and tramping trip on Hawaii, and I was interested the other day in seeing some of the photographs he has taken. He tells me that on Hawaii he found more nearly the primitive life than he had believed could still remain in these days of automobiles, wireless telegraphy and the concomitant desire on the part of many well-disposed and respectable citizens to forget that there was anything primitive about Hawaii.

Gurrey is doing for Hawaii what Edward S. Curtis, the noted Northwest photographer, has been doing for the West—and doing it better, because Curtis often allows his sense of the dramatic to outweigh the artistic, and the artistic is the essential truth. Curtis

Conservation of Political Energy

Now that those two human dynamos of political energy, George R. Carter and A. L. C. Atkinson, are back in Hawaii, the air is full of indignant bursts concerning the big steal in California.

I don't doubt it. I don't doubt that the political pirates and the brazen bosses and the lustful looters and all the other alliterative adjectives were there in full force, nor do I doubt that they were operating for both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, with probably a couple of stray pickpockets mooching around in the interests of Bob La Follette.

There were sixteen hundred blue-coated, large-footed policemen around the Coliseum, and it seems to me that when the Roosevelt men saw "the greatest steal in the history of Christendom" was being pulled off, they should have raised the hue and cry, a couple of huns and cries if necessary, and stopped the theft.

However, the point is that Carter and

Atkinson are back with energy to burn, and if someone doesn't stop them, they will be getting Hawaii tangled up in another national campaign. Hawaii is just getting out from under the effects of the convention last April, and although the operation was entirely successful, the patient is still recovering.

If Carter and Atkinson would make up their minds that the situation right here in Hawaii needs attention first, and would get in and help fight the battle this fall for efficiency in public office, they would be mighty forces for real progressivism.

This isn't intended to be any political discussion. It is simply a friendly commentary on the wonderful chance for some young Republican stalwart to grasp a fistful of the loose odds and ends of Republican politics that have been floating around and getting tangled up for nearly a year, to handle them carefully but firmly, and to be the kind of a leader that men can follow with respect and admiration instead of fear and trembling.

AFTER LONG SUFFERING

These Two Women's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read Their Own Statements.

Cheneyville, La.—"Some time ago when in poor health, suffering from female illness, I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I soon felt better and gained in strength and flesh. A gradual improvement continued as I took the Compound, and from 120 pounds I now weigh 155, and feel that my life has been prolonged.

"I deeply regret that I did not know of your medicine long before I did. Friends often speak of the wonderful change in my health, and tell them that your medicine did it."—Mrs. J. W. STANLEY, Cheneyville, La.

Distressing Case of Mrs. M. Gary, Chicago, Ill.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and it has certainly made a new woman of me. After my first baby was born I was left a perfect wreck. I was so weak I could hardly do my household duties and suffered with a awful backache. But since I have used your Compound the pains in my back have left me and I am strong again.

"My mother used it also through Change of Life and speaks very highly of it. You can use this letter any way you wish. I think it is not fair for one who has suffered as much as I, to let others know of your great remedy."—Mrs. M. GARY, 2958 N. Ridgeway Ave., Chicago, Ill.

STOP GIRLS ON HONOLULU TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—Two young girls, one 17 and the other 19 years old, were rescued by the police yesterday afternoon from a steamer which was about to sail for Honolulu. It is believed by the police that white slavers were endeavoring to ship the girls to the Hawaiian Islands for unlawful purposes.

The girls are Mrs. Charles Friedel and Miss Eva Crosby. Mrs. Friedel, the younger girl, is separated from her husband, who lives in Fresno. The Crosby girl says that she lives in this city, but she refuses to give her address to the police.

The girls were taken in charge by Police Officer Cullane Tuesday night on the request of a woman from Portland who declared that the two were intoxicated in a hotel in Eddy street near Mason. They were held at the city prison in detainee. An actor, who refused to give his name, obtained their release on habeas corpus proceedings.

The police shadowed the girls when they left the prison. When they were taken aboard the steamer for Honolulu a telegram was sent to Mrs. Friedel's father, J. H. Knight of Fresno, and he reached this city just in time to accompany the police to the steamer and take the girls off.

NO LOCAL CONCERNS BID ON NAVY OIL PLANT

None of the local concerns figured on the construction of the fuel oil plant at Pearl Harbor naval station, bids for which were opened in Washington today.

Notification of the conditions and specifications arrived here too late for the local contractors to get their bids in through the mail, but arrangements were made whereby they could be accepted here, and forwarded to Washington unopened, cable advice of the number of proposals being given. However, there were no bidders this morning.

The job is a small one, as navy work at Pearl Harbor goes, involving only $12,000. The plant is to be located near the site of the cold-storage plant.

PARKER TALKS ON KAU DITCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 8.—Sam Parker on his way to Honolulu from Washington, D. C., talked while in town of the enterprise of the Kau and Hilo Ditch Co. which has an application before Congress for a water franchise which will involve the expenditure of between three and four million dollars and under which 78,000 acres of rich lands will be irrigated. The Kau and Hilo Ditch Co. is a holding company owned by Mr. Parker and an associate. It has completed a ditch with laterals for the Hamakua Irrigation Co., which irrigates 20,000 acres and it has another system in operation over 10,000 acres for the Kohala Irrigation Co. These companies receive from $2,500 to $6,000 per million gallons a year.

Charles F. Wood, vice-president of The Breakwater Co. of New York, is en route to Honolulu. His company has the contract for the government breakwater to cost $2,000,000. It will take five years to complete the work and give steady employment to 250 men.

The sugar market is depressed owing to the tariff question and the position Cuba occupies as a producer of sugar. English and French capital are very active in the islands. The English house of Davies & Co. has taken over the "Kukui" one of the largest sugar plantations in Hawaii.

JAMMED VALVE CAUSED HONOLULU MAN'S DEATH

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), July 5.—Divers this afternoon found the valve of the gas bag of the ill-fated dirigible Akron. No trace of the bodies of Melvin Vaniman, Walter Gest or Fred Elmer has been found.

The valve was open, held so by a tight chain, which evidently was pulled just before the accident, while Vaniman and his crew were fighting to bring the ship to a lower level.

This has given rise to the theory that sparks from the overheated middle engine communicated with a leak in the pipe which relayed the gas from the valve proper and caused the explosion.

By a vote of 43 to 12 the Senate has passed a two-battleship-a-year bill amounting to $133,000,000. Wireless stations covering the whole Pacific are also to be established.
